Chapter 4 Part III
The Centre for Islamic Legal Studies’
Draft Harmonised Sharia Penal Code Annotated

What follows for the next hundred pages or so is the “Harmonised Sharia Penal Code” produced by the Centre for Islamic Legal Studies of Ahmadu Bello University, Zaria, annotated to show variations between it and the Penal Code of 1960 on the one hand, and the enacted Sharia Penal Codes of ten of the Sharia States on the other hand.

1. List of codes included in the annotations, in order of their coming into operation:

   PC: Penal Code Law, Northern Region of Nigeria No. 18 of 1959, coming into operation on 30th September 1960, as amended to 1963; as found in Chapter 89, Laws of Northern Nigeria 1963.

53 The page on which the Governor signed says 18th December 2001, but this is evidently a mistake.

54 Bauchi’s Sharia Penal Code was amended by a law signed on 29th June 2001 – before the Code itself had even been gazetted. The amending law was gazetted in Bauchi State Gazette Vol. 26 No. 7, 29th June 2001: it deleted what had been subsection (2) of §148 (punishment for dealing in alcoholic drinks) and added what became §376 (prohibition of praise singing, etc.). We are guessing that the Code itself was signed and came into force sometime in May 2001.
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

Gombe: Sharia Penal Code Law 2001, signed into law on 23rd November 2001, no date of coming into operation given, no gazette information available, photocopy of signed original in possession of editor.

2. Not included in the annotations:

Borno: Sharia Penal Code Law 2001, signed into law on 3rd March 2003, no date of coming into operation given, no gazette information available, photocopy of signed original in possession of editor.

Zamfara: Sharia Penal Code Law 2005, No. 5 of 2005, signed into law on 23rd November 2005, no date of coming into operation given, no gazette information available, photocopy of signed original in possession of editor.

The Borno law was not obtained until May 2006, after the work of annotation of the CILS code had been completed. The Niger law is not a complete Sharia Penal Code: it merely amends the Penal Code of 1960, laying down that certain sections, when applied to Muslims, will carry different burdens of proof and different punishments than when applied to non-Muslims; it is printed in its entirety as part IV of this chapter. The Zamfara Sharia Penal Code of 2005 is the CILS code published and annotated here (except for certain corrections subsequently made to the CILS code).

3. Some comments on the annotations. In making our annotations we have ignored what we considered to be clearly typographical errors (of which the Sharia Penal Codes published by the States are full), unless the meaning was unclear, in which case we noted it. We have also ignored what we considered to be immaterial variations. For instance, CILS §173 defines the crime of “cheating by personation”. Some of the codes have “personification” instead of “personation”: we did not note that.

A greater difficulty was presented by the many variations, not only in punishments, but in the manner of specifying punishments. One example will illustrate how we have tried to deal with this without unduly lengthening the notes. CILS §157 states that whoever is convicted of putting any person in fear of injury in order to commit extortion “shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.” The footnote reads as follows:

One difference between the PC and CILS is the difference between “and” and “or”: this is clearly noted. But this still leaves the footnote ambiguous as to whether the indicated numbers are maximums, minimums, or to be imposed exactly as stated, and also as to whether the punishments specified by the States are conjunctive or disjunctive. To resolve these ambiguities the reader should read the variants back into the language of the section being annotated. Thus all the numbers in this case are maximums, and the stroke means “and shall also be liable to”. Where this does not work we have made fuller notes. There remain some ambiguities in the language of the codes which we have of course not attempted to resolve.

4. Omission of section titles in the body of the code. The titles of the code sections are given at the beginning under the heading “Arrangement of Sections”. In order to save space we have not repeated the titles in the body of the code; anyone wanting to know the title of a particular section can refer to the list at the beginning.

5. Note on spellings, formatting, etc. As throughout this work, we have corrected and standardised spellings, capitalisations, etc. in the Harmonised Sharia Penal Code, and made adjustments to the formatting. This is discussed further in the Preface to Volumes I - V.

1 PC: “This Law may be cited as the Penal Code Law”. Kebbi enacted its Sharia Penal Code by a “Penal Code (Amendment) Law 2000” which amended its former Penal Code Law, the new Sharia Penal Code becoming the first Schedule, and the former Penal Code becoming the Second Schedule thereto. PC and Sokoto specify the date of commencement by a separate un-numbered notation preceding the first section.

2 Katsina adds here: “and the Islamic Penal System (Adoption) Law 2000”, referring to the statute of that name enacted on 31st July 2000, see Supplement to Katsina State Gazette No. 5 Vol. 11 of 10 August 2000 pp. A97-A98. That statute enacts that: “3. (1) Notwithstanding any provision contained in the Penal Code and the Criminal Procedure Code, proceedings for the determination of any civil or criminal matter before any Sharia Court shall be governed in accordance with the primary sources of Islamic Law, that is to say – (a) Qur’an; and (b) Hadith. (2) Subject to the provisions contained in the texts mentioned in subsection (1) of this section, a Sharia Court is empowered, in any proceedings before it to refer to and utilise the texts in the Maliki School of Law: Provided that they are in consonance with the Qur’an and Hadith. 4. Offences committed on or after the date of commencement of this Law shall be tried in accordance with the provisions of this Law”. There were objections, at the time, that this enactment did not comply with §36(12) of the Nigerian Constitution of 1999, which provides that “a person shall not be convicted of a criminal offence unless that offence is defined and the penalty therefor is prescribed in a written law; and in this subsection, a written law refers to an Act of the National Assembly or a Law of a State, any subsidiary legislation or instrument under the provisions of a law.” The full Katsina State Sharia Penal Code Law annotated here was then enacted in 2001; but offences under the Islamic Penal System (Adoption) Law were still triable, see n. to §7 below.

3 PC and all SPCs except Gombe, Kano, Katsina add here: “and is hereinafter [or hereby] called”. The law of Northern Nigeria”; and in general, where in this Draft Harmonised Code and in the SPCs references are made to “the State”, PC has “Northern Nigeria”; this will not be specially noted subsequently. Gombe, Kebbi: “the law of [Gombe or Kebbi] State”.

4 PC and all SPCs except Gombe, Kano, Katsina add here: “and is hereinafter [or hereby] called”.

5 PC: “(1) Every person shall be liable to punishment under the Penal Code for every act or omission contrary to the provisions thereof of which he shall be guilty within Northern Nigeria. (2) After the commencement of this Law no person shall be liable to punishment under any native law or custom.” All SPCs, on the contrary, agree in limiting their application to Muslims or to others who voluntarily consent to the jurisdiction of the Sharia courts in which the SPCs are to be applied; those not subject to the SPCs then go under the old PC. Katsina omits the concluding phrase “for every act or omission
4. (1) Where by the provisions of any law of the State the doing of any act or the making of any omission is made an offence, those provisions shall apply to every person subject to the provisions of this Law who is in the State at the time of his doing the act or making the omission.

(2) Where any such offence comprises several elements and any acts, omissions or events occur which, if they all occurred in the State, would constitute an offence, and any of such acts, omissions or events [occur in the State, although the other acts, omissions or events], which if they occurred in the State would be elements of the offence, occur elsewhere than in the State then:

(a) if the act or omission, which in the case of an offence committed wholly in the State would be the initial element of the offence, occurs in the State, the person who does that act or makes that omission is guilty of an offence of the same kind and is liable to the same punishment as if all the subsequent elements of the offence occurred in the State; and

(b) if that act or omission occurs elsewhere than in the State and the person who does that act or makes that omission afterwards enters the State, he is by such entry guilty of an offence of the same kind, and is liable to the same punishment as if that act or omission had occurred in the State and he had been in the State when it occurred.

5. (1) When by the provisions of this law any act is declared to be lawful no action shall be brought in respect thereof.

(2) Except as aforesaid, the provisions of this Law shall not affect any right of action which any person would have had against another, if this Law had not been passed; nor shall the omission from this law of any penal provision in respect of any act or omission which before the time of the coming into operation of this law constituted an actionable wrong affect any right of action in respect thereof.

counter to the provisions thereof of which he shall be guilty within the State”. Kaduna and Yobe add to this section a subsection (2), which here and in all other SPCs is §7 below.
6 Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Sokoto, Zamfara: “provisions of this law”.
7 PC, Kebbi: omit “subject to the provisions of this law”. Gombe: “shall apply to any Muslim in the State who commits such act or omission.”
8 Bracketed language in PC, but omitted here and in all SPCs except Bauchi.
9 PC adds here two further subsections, as follows: “(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (2) it shall be a defence to the charge in any such case to prove that the person accused did not intend that the act or omission should have effect in Northern Nigeria. (4) The provisions of subsection (2) do not extend to a case in which the only material event that occurs in Northern Nigeria is the death of a person whose death is caused by an act or omission at a place outside, and at a time when that person was outside, Northern Nigeria.”
10 PC, Kebbi: “When by the Penal Code”. All SPCs except Kano and Katsina: “When by the Sharia Penal Code”.
11 PC and Kebbi, on one side, and all SPCs except Kano and Katsina on the other: instead of “this law” here and in the next line, refer to “the Penal Code” or “the Sharia Penal Code”, respectively.
12 Kano, Katsina: “which would affect”.

6. Nothing in this Law\textsuperscript{13} shall affect the authority of\textsuperscript{14} courts subject to the jurisdiction of this Law\textsuperscript{15} to punish a person summarily for the offence commonly known as contempt of court.

7. No act or omission committed by a person shall be an offence under the provisions of this law unless such act or omission was committed on or after the commencement date of this law.\textsuperscript{16}

SCHEDULE A: SHARIA PENAL CODE

CHAPTER I – GENERAL EXPLANATIONS AND DEFINITIONS\textsuperscript{17}

2. The pronoun "he" and its derivatives are used for any person whether male or female.

3. Unless the contrary appears from the context, words importing the singular number include the plural number and words importing the plural number include singular number.

\textsuperscript{14} Kano, Katsina: “shall preclude”.

\textsuperscript{15} PC: “courts of record”.

\textsuperscript{16} PC omits this section. Kaduna and Yobe have it as subsection (2) of §3. Katsina: “An act or omission committed by a person shall not be an offence nor shall it have retrospective effect under the provisions of this Law, unless such an act or omission was committed on or after the commencement of this Law or the Islamic Penal System (Adoption) Law, 2000”, cf. n. 3 above. Kano as Katsina but omitting the reference to Katsina’s Islamic Penal System (Adoption) Law. Kebbi adds a subsection (2) to this section providing that “all pending criminal cases commenced or instituted prior to the coming into force of this Law shall continue to be tried under the [old Penal Code].”

\textsuperscript{18} Sokoto divides this definition into two, one under “Man” and the other under “Woman”.

\textsuperscript{19} Bauchi inserts here a definition of “age of maturity”: “denotes the attainment of the age of fifteen or of puberty in the case of a man and of the age of fourteen in the case of a woman or of the attainment of such woman’s menstruation whichever of the two conditions may preceede in either case.” No other code has a similar definition. Bauchi then uses the phrase in its versions of what are here §§38, 77, 95, 127, etc.

\textsuperscript{20} Jigawa: “The word ‘person’ includes any class or section of the public” – obviously conflating the definition of ‘person’ with that of ‘the public’ in the next section. Jigawa then omits subsection (2) of this section.

26 PC, Gombe: “proceeding in the course of which it is lawful to take evidence on oath.”
27 Bauchi, Jigawa, Yobe, Zamfara add: “without prejudice to the provisions of [designated sections of their Sharia Courts statutes]”. Kebbi does not divide what follows into subsections, saying only: “The phrase ‘public servant’ shall have the same meaning as defined by the 1999 Constitution of the Federal Republic of Nigeria.”

67. (1) Nothing is an offence which is done by any person who is justified by law, or who by reason of a mistake of fact and not by reason of a mistake of law, in good faith believes himself to be justified by law in doing it.

(2) Whoever being a walifj al-damm of a deceased person causes the death of the suspect alleged to have killed the deceased shall not be punished with death, save as provided under section 202 of this law.95

Illustrations:96

(a) An officer of a court of justice being ordered by that court to arrest Y and after due enquiry believing Z to be Y arrests Z. A has committed no offence.

(b) A sees Z commit what appears to A to be culpable homicide. A in the exercise to the best of his judgment exerted in good faith of the power which the law gives to all persons of arresting murderers seizes Z in order to bring him before the proper authorities. A has committed no offence, though it may turn out that Z was acting in self defence.

(c) A kills B. C, the son of B, kills A before A is convicted of killing B. C will not be punished for intentional homicide if it is established that A was indeed guilty of intentional homicide against B.97

68. Nothing is an offence which is done by a person when acting judicially as a court of justice or as a member of a court of justice in the exercise of any power which is or which in good faith he believes to be given to him by law.

69. Nothing which is done in pursuance of or which is warranted by the judgment or order of a court of justice, if done whilst such judgment or order remains in force, is an offence, notwithstanding that the court may have had no jurisdiction to pass such judgment or order, provided the person doing the act in good faith believes that the court had such jurisdiction.

70. Nothing is an offence which is done by accident or misfortune and without any criminal intention or knowledge in the course of doing a lawful act in a lawful manner by lawful means and with proper care and caution.

71. (1) Nothing is an offence by reason of an injury which it may cause or be intended by the doer to cause or be known by the doer to be likely to cause, if it be done without any criminal intention to cause injury and in good faith for the purpose of preventing or avoiding other injury to person or property or of benefiting the person to whom injury is or may be caused: Provided:

(a) that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the doing of the thing was reasonable; and 94 PC omits this entire section, but see §72 below and notes thereto. Kano and Katsina have: “upon an adult and sane person (muallaf)”. 95 No similar subsection in PC or in Bauchi, Gombe, Kano, Katsina, Kebbi, Jigawa, Sokoto, Zamfara. 96 Illustrations not included in Gombe. 97 Illustration (c) not included in PC or in any of the SPCs.

(b) that, where the circumstances so require, the thing is done with reasonable care and skill.

(2) This section shall not apply to the intentional causing of death or to the attempting to cause death in order to prevent or avoid injury to property only except as is provided for in section 91 of this law.

(3) The death of a person shall under no circumstances be deemed to be for the benefit of that person.

(4) Mere pecuniary benefit is not benefit within the meaning of this section.

Illustrations:

(a) A, in a great fire, pulls down houses in order to prevent the conflagration from spreading. He does this with the intention in good faith of saving human life or property. Here, if it is found that in the circumstances, A’s act was reasonable, A is not guilty of an offence;

(b) A, a surgeon knowing that a particular operation is likely to cause the death of Z, who suffers from a painful complaint, but not intending to cause Z’s death and intending in good faith Z’s benefit performs that operation. Z dies in consequence of the operation. If the operation is one which in all the circumstances it was reasonable for A to perform and it was performed with reasonable care and skill, A has committed no offence;

(c) Z is seized by a hyena. A fires at the hyena in order to save the life of Z. A in fact kills Z. A has committed no offence.

72. No act is an offence which is done:

(a) by a child under seven years; or

(b) in cases of hudud and qisas, by a child below the age of taklif.

100 PC subsection (b) reads: “by a child above seven years of age but under twelve years of age who has not attained sufficient maturity of understanding to judge the nature and consequence of such act.” Kano and Katsina: “in cases of punishable offences by the Qur’an or Hadith (hudud) by a child below the age of criminal responsibility (taklif)”. No state, in subsection (b), mentions qisas as well as hudud. PC omits “or sleep”.

98 No state includes any of these illustrations except Sokoto, which includes only (a). PC includes a 4th illustration, involving a speeding passenger train approaching a stationary one on the same line of rails, and a railway employee who switches the moving train onto a siding in order to prevent a collision. PC also includes two qualifications to what is here illustration (b), involving (i) what happens if A is drunk when he performs the operation, and (ii) the relevance of Z’s having consented to the operation.

99 Bauchi omits this whole section.
CILS HARMONISED SHARIA PENAL CODE ANNOTATED

75. (1) No act is an offence by reason of the injury it has caused to the person or property of any person who, being above the age of taklit, has voluntarily and with understanding given his consent express or implied to that act.102

(2) This section shall not apply to acts which are likely to cause death or grievous hurt, nor to acts which constitute offences independently of any injury which they are capable of causing to the person who has given his consent or to his property.

76. Nothing, which is not intended to cause death, is an offence by reason of any harm which it may cause, or be intended by the doer to cause, or be known by the doer to be likely to cause, to any person for whose benefit it is done in good faith, and who has given a consent, whether express or implied, to suffer that harm, or to take the risk of that harm.

77. (1) Nothing is an offence which does not amount to the infliction of grievous hurt upon any person and which is done:

(a) by a parent or guardian for the purpose of correcting his child or ward;103 or

(b) by a school master for the purpose of correcting a child entrusted to his charge;104 or

(c) by a master for the purpose of correcting his apprentice such apprentice being under eighteen years of age;105 or

(d) by a husband for the purpose of correcting his wife.106

(2) No correction is justifiable which is unreasonable in kind or in degree, regard being had to the age and physical and mental condition of the person on whom it is inflicted; and no correction is justifiable in the case of a person who, by reason of tender years or otherwise, is incapable of understanding the purpose for which it is inflicted.

78. No communication made in good faith is an offence by reason of any harm caused to the person to whom it is made, if it is made for the benefit of that person.107

79. Except homicide, grievous hurt and offences against the State punishable with death, no act is an offence which is done by a person who is compelled to do it by coercion or by threat of death or imminent grievous hurt to his person or family or serious injury to his property which at the time of doing it reasonably caused the apprehension that instant death to that person will otherwise be the consequence:

Provided that the person doing the act did not, of his own accord or from apprehension of harm to himself short of instant death, place himself in the situation by which he became subject to such compulsion.

102 PC: “above the age of eighteen years”.
103 PC and Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Kebbi, Yobe, Zamfara: “child or ward being under eighteen years of age”. Bauchi: “under the age of maturity”.
104 PC, Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara: “child under eighteen years of age”. Bauchi: “under the age of maturity”.
105 PC and all states except Kaduna: “servant or apprentice”.
106 PC goes on: “such husband and wife being subject to any native law or custom in which such correction is recognised as lawful.”
107 PC adds this illustration: “A, a surgeon, in good faith communicates to a patient his opinion that he cannot live. The patient dies in consequence of the shock. A has committed no offence, though he knew it to be likely that the communication might cause the patient’s death.”
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

80. No act is an offence which is done by a person involuntarily and without the ability of controlling his act by reason of act of God or sudden illness which makes him incapable of avoiding that act.

81. It shall not be an offence if an act is done by a person who is compelled by necessity to protect his person, property or honour, or person, property or honour of another from imminent grave danger which he has not wilfully caused or wilfully exposed himself or other persons to and which he or that other person is not capable of avoiding.

82. Nothing is an offence by reason that it causes or that it is intended to cause or that it is likely to cause any injury if that injury is so slight that no person of ordinary sense and temper would complain of such injury.

83. Nothing contained in the provisions of sections 66–81 shall prejudice the right of diyyah or damages in appropriate cases.

The Right of Private Defence

84. Nothing is an offence which is done in the lawful exercise of the right of private defence.

85. Every person has a right, subject to the restrictions hereinafter contained, to defend:

(a) his own body and the body of any other person against any offence affecting the human body;

(b) the property whether movable or immovable of himself or of any other person against any act, which is an offence falling under the definition of theft (sariqah), robbery (hirabah), mischief (fasad) or criminal trespass (ta’addi), or which is an attempt to commit theft (sariqah), robbery (hirabah), mischief (fasad) or criminal trespass (ta’addi).

86. When an act, which would otherwise be a certain offence is not that offence by reason of the youth, the want of maturity of understanding, the unsoundness of mind or the intoxication of the person doing that act or by reason of any misconception on the part of that person, every person has the same right of private defence against that act which he would have if the act were that offence.

Illustrations:

(a) Z under the influence of madness attempts to kill A; Z is guilty of no offence. But A has the same right of private defence which he would have if Z were sane.

(b) A enters by night a house which he is legally entitled to enter. Z, in good faith taking A for a house-breaker, attacks A. Here Z, by attacking A under this misconception, commits no offence. But A has the same right of private defence against Z, which he would have if Z were not acting under that misconception.

108 Not in PC.
109 Not in PC.
110 Not in PC.
111 PC does not include the Arabic words for the specified offences.
112 Bauchi compresses all conditions into: “by reason of infirmity of mind or misconception of the offender”.
113 Gombe does not include the illustrations.
87. Subject to the provisions of section 203 paragraph (c) of this law, the right of private defence in no case extends to the inflicting of more harm than it is necessary to inflict for the purpose of defence.

88. There is no right of private defence in cases in which there is reasonable time to have recourse to the protection of the public authorities.

89. There is no right of private defence against an act which does not reasonably cause the apprehension of death or of grievous hurt, if done or attempted to be done:
   (a) by a public servant doing an act justifiable in law and in good faith; or
   (b) by any person acting under the direction of a public servant acting lawfully and in good faith.

90. The right of private defence of the body extends, under the restrictions mentioned in sections 87 and 88 to the voluntary causing of death only when the act to be repelled is of any of the following descriptions, namely:
   (a) an attack which causes reasonable apprehension of death or grievous hurt; or
   (b) rape or an assault with the intention of gratifying unnatural lust; or
   (c) abduction or kidnapping.

91. The right of private defence of property extends, under the restrictions mentioned in sections 87 and 88 to the voluntary causing of death only when the act to be repelled is of any of the following descriptions, namely:
   (a) robbery (hirabah); or
   (b) house-breaking by night; or
   (c) mischief by fire committed on any building, tent or vessel, which building, tent or vessel is used as a human dwelling or as a place for the custody of property; or
   (d) theft, mischief, or house-trespass in such circumstances as may reasonably cause apprehension that, if such right of private defence is not exercised, death or grievous hurt will be the consequence.

92. If, in the exercise of the right of private defence against an assault which reasonably causes the apprehension of death, the defender be so situated that he cannot effectually exercise that right without risk of harm to an innocent person, his right of private defence extends to the running of that risk.

114 PC, Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Kebbi, Sokoto, Zamfara all leave out this initial “subject to” clause.
115 The word “reasonable” is omitted from all codes except Kano and Katsina.
116 PC adds the following explanation not included in any SPC: “A person is not deprived of the right of private defence against an act done or attempted to be done: (a) by a public servant as such unless he knows or has reason to believe that the person doing that act is such public servant; or (b) by the direction of a public servant, unless he knows or has reason to believe that the person doing the act is acting by such direction or unless such person states the authority under which he acts or, if he has authority in writing, unless he produces such authority if demanded.”
117 PC and Sokoto insert an illustration following this section: “A is attacked by a mob which attempts to kill him. He cannot effectually exercise his right of private defence without firing on the mob and he cannot fire without risk of harming young children who are mingled with the mob. A commits no offence if by so firing he harms any of the children.”
CHAPTER III – PUNISHMENTS AND COMPENSATION

93. (1) The punishments to which offenders are liable under the provisions of this law are:
   (i) death (qatl);
   (ii) imprisonment (sijn);
   (iii) closure of premises;
   (iv) forfeiture and destruction of property (al-musadarah-wal ibadah);
   (v) detention in a reformatory (babs fi islahiyah);
   (vi) fine (gharamah);
   (vii) caning (jald);
   (viii) amputation (qat’);
   (ix) retaliation (qisas);
   (x) blood-wit (diyab);
   (xi) restitution (radd);
   (xii) reprimand (tawbikh);
   (xiii) public disclosure (tash-heer);
   (xiv) boycott (hajar);
   (xv) exhortation (wa’az);
   (xvi) compensation (hukumah);
   (xvii) warning (tahdid); and
   (xviii) stoning to death (rajm).

   (2) Nothing in this section shall prevent a court from dealing with an offender in accordance with the Probation of Offenders Law.

94. No sentence of imprisonment shall be passed on any person who in the opinion of the Court is under fifteen years of age.

118 Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara all have in this place a provision entitled “General Offences”, of which we quote Zamfara’s: “Any act or omission which is not specifically mentioned in this Sharia Penal Code but is otherwise declared to be an offence under the Qur’an, Sunnah, and ijtihad of the Maliki school of Islamic thought, shall be an offence under this code and such act or omission shall be punishable: (a) with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years, or (b) with caning which may extend to 50 lashes, or (c) with a fine which may extend to ₦5,000.00. PC has nothing similar.

119 Sokoto has “haddi-lashing” in addition to caning. The PC also has the following provision on haddi lashing: “Offenders who are of the Moslem faith may in addition to the punishments specified in subsection (1) be liable to the punishment of Haddi lashing as prescribed by Moslem law for offences contrary to sections 387 [adultery by a man], 388 [adultery by a woman], 392 [defamation], 393 [injurious falsehood], 401, 402, 403 and 404 [all relating to alcohol] of this Penal Code.”

120 Called “public scorn” in Gombe.

121 Called “admonishing” in Gombe.

122 Only Gombe, Kano and Katsina have stoning to death in addition to death.

123 Gombe adds: “or any other written law enforced in this State.”
95. (1) When an accused person who has completed his seventh but not completed his eighteenth year of age is convicted by a court of any offence, the court may instead of passing the sentence prescribed under this law, subject the accused to:

(a) confinement in a reformatory home for a period not exceeding one year; or

(b) caning which may extend to twenty lashes, or with fine or with both.\(^{126}\)

(2) Where it is proved that the offence committed by the accused person is by negligence of the parent or guardian the court may impose a fine not exceeding five thousand naira.\(^{127}\)

96. (1) Where no sum is expressed to which a fine may extend, the amount of fine to which the offender is liable is unlimited but shall not exceed the jurisdiction of the court imposing it and shall not be excessive.

(2) The court shall assess fine with reference to the nature of the offence committed, the amount of wrongful gain obtained thereby, the degree of the offender's participation and his financial status.\(^{128}\)

97. Whenever an offender is sentenced to a fine whether with or without imprisonment under this law the court which sentences the offender may direct by the sentence that, in default of payment of the fine, the offender shall be committed to prison for a certain term which shall be in excess of any other term of imprisonment to which he may have been sentenced or to which he may be liable under a commutation of a sentence.\(^{129}\)

98. (1) If an offence is punishable with fine or with imprisonment and fine the court may direct that in default of payment the offender shall be imprisoned for any term not exceeding the maximum fixed in the following scale, or the offender may be caned with a number of lashes not exceeding the maximum fixed in the same scale:\(^{130}\)

\(^{124}\) [Fractions of term of punishment]
\(^{125}\) In calculating fractions of terms of punishment, imprisonment for life shall be reckoned as equivalent to imprisonment for twenty years.” No SPC has this.
\(^{126}\) Bauchi: “accused person who has attained his penultimate year before maturity but has not completed the age of maturity.”
\(^{127}\) Kano and Katsina omit “or fine or both”. Kaduna omits both subsections (a) and (b), saying: “subject the convict to ta’azir punishment.”
\(^{128}\) Only Kano and Katsina have subsection (2).
\(^{129}\) Subsection (2) not in PC.
\(^{130}\) Kaduna: “may direct that his movable or immovable property shall be auctioned or he shall be given fine to pay instalmentally.”
\(^{130}\) Not in Kaduna. PC and all SPCs omit the possibility of lashes in case of default. The ranges of fines and the periods of imprisonment for default vary among the codes, the highest period of imprisonment being five years in Kebbi State if the fine exceeds \(\geq\)20,000.
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

(2) The sentence served under subsection (1) shall discharge the offender from liability to pay the fine or the unpaid part thereof.\textsuperscript{131}

(3) The Governor may, with the approval of the House of Assembly by order review the fine in the scale prescribed in subsection (1) of this section when it is considered to be practicable in the interest of justice.\textsuperscript{132}

\textsuperscript{131} Neither PC nor any SPC has this subsection; but see  following §98.

\textsuperscript{132} Only Kano and Katsina have this subsection.

\textsuperscript{133} PC has here the following provision, also contained in Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, and Zamfara: “Where a fine or any part thereof remains unpaid the offender or his estate, if he is dead, is not discharged from liability to pay the fine or the unpaid part thereof notwithstanding that he has served a term of imprisonment in default of payment of the fine.” Bauchi has the same provision but changes “not discharged” to “discharged”. Kaduna, Kano and Katsina omit the provision entirely.

\textsuperscript{134} Not in Kaduna. PC inserts an illustration: “A gives Z fifty strokes with a stick. Here A can be punished for one beating only, although each blow may by itself constitute an offence.” But if, while A is beating Z, Y interferes and A strikes Y, A is liable to two punishments – one each for Y and Z.

any other punishment to which he might be sentenced for any offence not punishable with death.\footnote{Not in Kaduna.  PC limits the caning to twelve strokes, and to male offenders.}

Explanation:

In a situation where death sentence or hadd or qadhf punishments are combined the punishment of hadd shall precede that of death.\footnote{Only Kano and Katsina have this explanation.}

101. A sentence of reprimand (tawbikh), or warning (tabdid), exhortation (wa’az) or boycott (hajar) may be passed by any court whether trying the case summarily or otherwise on any offender in lieu of, or in addition to any other punishment to which he might be sentenced for any offence not punishable with death, or offences falling under hudud or qisas.\footnote{Not in PC.  Kano and Katsina omit warning.}

102. Any person who is convicted of an offence under this law shall, in addition to the punishment for the offence, be ordered to make complete restitution of any benefits, moneys, funds or properties obtained by the crime or other illegal means to the person(s), authorities, bodies or corporations concerned, and the court may, upon application by the victim or his relatives, order compensation for any injury that had resulted from the offence, in accordance with provisions of the relevant Act or Law.\footnote{Not in Kaduna.  PC provides for “compensation to any person injured … in addition to or in substitution for any other punishment.” Sokoto: “upon application by the victim or his legal representative and in case of victim’s death by his legal heirs, order compensation … in accordance with the relevant provisions of this code or the general principles of Maliki School of thought.” Note also the section on compensation included in the chapter on General Explanations and Definitions, above §37.}

103. The court may order the closure of any premises used in conducting in any way any business in contravention of the provisions of this law for a period of not less than one month and not exceeding one year.\footnote{Not in PC.  Bauchi and Katsina omit the period of closure.  Jigawa: “not exceeding one year or pending the determination of the case.” Kaduna allows the court to vacate any such order to allow the premises to be used for any legitimate purpose.}

CHAPTER IV – JOINT ACTS

104. When a criminal act is done by several persons in furtherance of the common intention of all, each of such persons is liable for that act in the same manner as if it were done by him alone.

105. Whenever an act, which is criminal only by reason of its being done with a criminal knowledge or intention, is done by several persons, each of such persons who joins in the act with such knowledge or intention is liable for the act in the same manner as if the act were done by him alone with that knowledge or intention.

106. When an offence is committed by means of several acts, whoever intentionally co-operates in the commission of that offence by doing any one of those acts, either singly or jointly with any other person, commits that offence.\footnote{PC has three illustrations to this section, of which Sokoto alone includes one, the second, as follows: “A and B are joint jailors and as such have the charge of Z a prisoner alternately for six hours at a time. A and B intending to cause Z’s death knowingly co-operate in causing that effect by illegally...}

107. Where several persons are engaged or concerned in the commission of a criminal act each person may be guilty of a different offence or offences by means of that act.\(^{141}\)

CHAPTER V – ABETMENT

108. A person abets the doing of a thing, who:

(a) instigates any person to do that thing; or
(b) engages with one or more person or persons in any conspiracy for the doing of that thing; or
(c) intentionally aids or facilitates by any act or illegal omission the doing of that thing.\(^{142}\)

109. A person abets an offence who abets either the commission of an offence or the commission of an act which would be an offence, if committed with the same intention or knowledge as that of the abettor by a person capable by law of committing an offence.\(^{143}\)

110. Whoever abets any offence shall, if the act abetted is committed in consequence of the abetment and no express provision is made by this law or by any other law for the time being in force for the punishment of such abetment, be punished with the punishment provided for the offence.\(^{144}\)

111. Whoever abets the commission of an offence shall, if the person abetted does the act with a different intention or knowledge from that of the abettor, be punished with the punishment provided for the offence which would have been committed if the act had been done with the intention or knowledge of the abettor and with no other.

112. When an act is abetted and a different act is done and the act done was a probable consequence of the abetment and was committed under the influence of the instigation or in pursuance of the conspiracy or with the aid which constitutes the abetment, the abettor is omitting, each during the time of his attendance, to furnish Z with food supplied to them for that purpose. Z dies of hunger. Both A and B are guilty of culpable homicide.”

\(^{141}\) PC has an illustration after this section, omitted in all SPCs and here.

\(^{142}\) PC has an explanation and two illustrations following this section. Only Kano, Katsina and Sokoto include any of this, namely, the two illustrations, as follows: “(a) A is authorised by a warrant from a court of justice to arrest Z. B, knowing that fact and also that C is not Z, wilfully represents to A that C is Z and thereby intentionally causes A to arrest C. Here B abets by instigation the arrest of C. (b) A, a policeman, bound as such to give information of all designs to commit robbery and knowing that Z intends to commit a robbery illegally omits to give information of Z’s intention, knowing that the commission of the robbery is likely to be thereby facilitated. Here A has abetted the robbery.”

\(^{143}\) PC has five explanations and six illustrations following this section. Kano and Katsina include the first two explanations only, as follows: “Explanation 1. The abetment of the illegal omission of an act may amount to an offence although the abettor may not himself be bound to do that act. Explanation 2. To constitute the offence of abetment, it is not necessary that the act abetted should be committed or that the effect requisite to constitute the offence should be caused.” Sokoto includes a different one of the explanations, as follows: “The abetment of an offence being an offence, the abetment of such an abetment is also an offence.” No other SPC includes any of the illustrations or explanations, the rest of which we omit here.

\(^{144}\) PC has an explanation and two illustrations following this section. These are omitted in all SPCs and here. Kaduna changes the provision as follows: “… if the act abetted is committed in consequence of the abetment be subjected to ta’azir punishment.”

liable for the act done in the same manner and to the same extent as if he had directly abetted it.\(^{145}\)

113. If the act for which the abettor is liable under section 112 is committed in addition to the act abetted and constitutes a distinct offence, the abettor is liable to punishment for each of the offences.

114. When an act is abetted with the intention on the part of the abettor of causing a particular effect and an act for which the abettor is liable in consequence of the abetment causes a different effect from that intended by the abettor, the abettor is liable for the effect caused in the same manner and to the same extent as if he had abetted the act with the intention of causing that effect, provided he knew that the act abetted was likely to cause that effect.\(^{146}\)

115. Whenever any person who if absent would be liable to be punished as an abettor is present when the act or offence for which he would be punishable in consequence of the abetment is committed, he shall be deemed to have committed such act or offence.\(^{147}\)

116. (1) Whoever abets the commission of an offence punishable with death or imprisonment for life shall, if that offence be not committed in consequence of the abetment and no express provision is made by this law or by any other Act or Law for the time being in force for the punishment of such abetment, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years and shall also be liable to caning, which may extend to fifty lashes.\(^{148}\)

(2) If the abettor is a public servant whose duty it is to prevent the commission of such offence, he shall be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to four years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.\(^{149}\)

117. (1) Whoever abets an offence punishable with imprisonment shall, if that offence is not committed in consequence of the abetment and no express provision is made by this law or by any other Act or Law for the time being in force for the punishment of such abetment, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one fourth part of the longest term provided for that offence or with such fine as is provided for that offence or with both.\(^{150}\)

\(^{145}\) PC has two illustrations following this section, omitted in all SPCs and here.

\(^{146}\) PC has an explanation and an illustration following this section, omitted in all SPCs and here.

\(^{147}\) This section is omitted from Kaduna.

\(^{148}\) PC: up to “seven years and shall also be liable to fine.” Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara have the same provision as here. Bauchi reduces the maximum number of lashes to 40, Kebbi to 15; and Kebbi allows fine in the alternative to imprisonment. Kaduna’s punishment provision is different: “Whoever abets … shall be liable to ta’azir punishment.”

\(^{149}\) PC: up to “ten years and shall also be liable to fine.” The only state with the identical punishment as here is Yobe. Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina and Zamfara have the same provision as here. Bauchi reduces the maximum number of lashes to 40; Sokoto: 3 years/60 lashes. Kebbi again allows fine in the alternative to imprisonment and up to 15 lashes. Kaduna omits this section entirely. PC also includes an illustration not included in any SPC or here.

\(^{150}\) Kaduna omits this and the next subsection entirely.
(2) If the abettor is a public servant whose duty it is to prevent the commission of such offence, he shall be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.\(^{151}\)

118. Whoever abets the commission of an offence by the public generally or by any member thereof or class of persons exceeding ten, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine or with both.\(^{152}\)

119. Whoever administers, or takes, or is present at and consents to the administering of, any oath or engagement in the nature of an oath, purporting to bind the person who takes it to commit any offence shall be punished:

(a) with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both;\(^{153}\) and

(b) if the offence is an offence punishable with death, with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years, or with fine and shall in addition be liable to caning of forty-five lashes.\(^{154}\)

CHAPTER VI – ATTEMPTS TO COMMIT OFFENCES

120. Whoever attempts to commit an offence punishable with imprisonment or to cause such an offence to be committed and in such attempt does any act towards the commission of the offence shall, where no express provision is made by this law or by any other Act or Law for the time being in force for the punishment of such attempt, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one half of the longest term provided for that offence or with such fine as is provided for the offence or with both.\(^{155}\)

CHAPTER VII – CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY

121. (1) When two or more persons agree to do or cause to be done:

(a) an illegal act; or

(b) an act which is not illegal by illegal means,

such an agreement is called a criminal conspiracy.

\(^{151}\) PC includes an illustration not included in any SPC or here. PC punishes with imprisonment for up to “one half of the longest term provided for that offence or with such fine as is provided for the offence or with both.” Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Yobe and Zamfara are identical to the provision here. Bauchi: 1 year/40 lashes. Sokoto: 1 year/50 lashes. Kebbi again allows fine in the alternative to imprisonment for up to 3 years, plus 15 lashes.

\(^{152}\) Bauchi: up to 2 years or fine or both. Kano and Katsina add to the punishment provisions here, in the alternative, five to forty lashes, “or all”. Kaduna’s provision is different: “Whoever abets the commission of an offence by more than one person shall be subject to ta’azir punishment.”

\(^{153}\) Bauchi raises the maximum term of imprisonment to 7 years. Kano and Katsina specify the amount of the fine: ₦50,000. Kaduna omits this subsection and the next entirely.

\(^{154}\) PC: up to life or fine or both. Bauchi: up to life. Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Yobe and Zamfara: up to 5 years or fine or both. Sokoto is like these last except imprisonment may only be for up to 2 years. Katsina is as here, except the amount of the fine is put at ₦50,000. Kano is like Katsina except that the 45 lashes are in the alternative instead of in addition.

\(^{155}\) PC gives two illustrations following this section, omitted in all SPCs and here. Kaduna eliminates the requirement that the offence attempted be punishable with imprisonment, and makes the punishment “ta’azir punishment.”
CILS HARMONISED SHARIA PENAL CODE ANNOTATED

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (1), no agreement except an agreement to commit an offence shall amount to a criminal conspiracy unless some act besides the agreement is done by one or more parties to such agreement in pursuance thereof.

Explanation 1:

It is immaterial whether the illegal act is the ultimate object of such agreement, or is merely incidental to that object.

Explanation 2:

This section shall not apply to an agreement of two or more persons to do or cause to be done any act in contemplation or furtherance of a trade dispute if such act committed by one person would not be punishable as an offence.

122. (1) Whoever is a party to a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable with death or with imprisonment shall where no express provision is made in this law for the punishment of such a conspiracy be punished in the same manner as if he had abetted such offence.

(2) Whoever is a party to a criminal conspiracy other than a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence punishable as aforesaid shall be punished with imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or with fine or with both.

123. Any society which by its composition, nature, or conduct is anti-social, counter productive or opposed to the general belief and culture of the people of the State, or is dangerous and obstructive to the good governance of the State or any part thereof, is said to be an unlawful society.

124. Whoever manages or is a member of an unlawful society shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to sixty lashes.

156 PC contains a third explanation omitted in all SPCs and here. Gombe omits all explanations.

157 Kaduna collapses the two subsections of this section into: “Whoever is a party to a criminal conspiracy to commit an offence shall be punished in the same manner as if he had abetted such offence.”

158 Sokoto: “opposed to the general belief in worship and culture”. PC has an entirely different wording: “A society is an unlawful society if declared by an order of the Governor in Council to be a society dangerous to the good government of the State or any part thereof.”

159 PC: up to 7 years or fine or both. Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Yobe and Zamfara as here except that Kano and Katsina add “or with both”. Bauchi: 7 years/40 lashes. Sokoto: 2 years/60 lashes. Kebbi: 7 years or fine, and up to 15 lashes. Kaduna: i'arwar.
CHAPTER VIII – HUDUD AND HUDUD-RELATED OFFENCES

Zina (Adultery or Fornication)

125. Whoever, being a man or a woman fully responsible, has sexual intercourse through the genital of a person over whom he has no sexual rights and in circumstances in which no doubt exists as to the illegality of the act, is guilty of the offence of zina.

126. Whoever commits the offence of zina shall be punished:
   (a) with caning of one hundred lashes if unmarried, and where the offender is a man shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of one year; or
   (b) if married, with stoning to death (rajm).

Explanation:

Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute the sexual intercourse necessary to the offence of zina.

Rape

127. (1) A man is said to commit rape who, save in the case referred in subsection (2), has sexual intercourse with a woman in any of the following circumstances:
   (a) against her will;
   (b) without her consent;
   (c) with her consent, when her consent has been obtained by putting her in fear of death or of hurt;

160 This chapter gathers offences organised and sometimes defined differently in PC. Adultery and incest come in PC in a chapter entitled OFFENCES RELATING TO MARRIAGE AND INCEST; five other PC offences relating to marriage, e.g. “Deceitfully inducing belief of lawful marriage”, are omitted here and in all SPCs. Rape, sodomy, lesbianism, bestiality and gross indecency come in PC in the chapter on OFFENCES AFFECTING THE HUMAN BODY, where sodomy, lesbianism, and bestiality are not differentiated but are presumably what is meant there by “unnatural offences”. There is a separate chapter of PC dealing with DEFAMATION, where qadhf is not separately distinguished. Offences related to alcohol are dealt with in PC in a chapter on CRIMINAL INTIMIDATION, INSULT AND ANNOYANCE AND DRUNKENNESS. All the rest of the offences included in this chapter are grouped in PC under OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY. The only PC offences against property not included in this chapter are those relating to Mischief, which are put here in the chapter on TA'AZIR OFFENCES. For more details, see notes to the specific sections.

161 Compare PC §§387 and 388: “Whoever, being a [§387: man; §388: woman] subject to any native law or custom in which extra-marital sexual intercourse is recognised as a criminal offence, has sexual intercourse with a person who is not and whom [he; she] knows or has reason to believe is not [his wife; her husband] [§387: such sexual intercourse not amounting to the offence of rape] is guilty of the offence of adultery and shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both.”

163 Bauchi and Kebbi: imprisonment “in a location other than his domicile”. Gombe, Jigawa, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara omit the limitation of the punishment of imprisonment to males.

164 Kebbi: “if married and the marriage consummated”.

165 Gombe omits the explanation.

166 Kano and Katsina omit this excepting clause in subsection (1), but nevertheless include the exception as subsection (2).
(d) with her consent, when the man knows that he is not her husband and that her consent is given because she believes that he is another man to whom she is or believes herself to be lawfully married;

(e) with or without her consent, when she is under fifteen years of age or of unsound mind.\textsuperscript{167}

(2) Sexual intercourse by a man with his own wife is not rape.\textsuperscript{168}

Explanation:

\textit{Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute the sexual intercourse necessary to the offence of rape.}

128. Whoever commits rape, shall be punished:\textsuperscript{169}

(a) with caning of one hundred lashes if unmarried, and shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of one year;\textsuperscript{170} or

(b) if married, with stoning to death (rajm); and

(c) in addition to either (a) or (b) above shall also pay the dower of her equals (sadaq al-mithli) and other damages to be determined by the court.\textsuperscript{171}

[Explanation:]\textsuperscript{172}

\textit{Sodomy (Liwat)}\textsuperscript{173}

129. Whoever has anal coitus with any man is said to commit the offence of sodomy.\textsuperscript{174}

\textsuperscript{167}PC: “when she is under fourteen years”. Bauchi: “under the age of maturity”. Kaduna: “under the age of taklif”.

\textsuperscript{168}PC adds: “if she has attained to puberty”.

\textsuperscript{169}PC omits subsections (a)-(c), punishing rape “with imprisonment for life or for any less term and shall also be liable to fine.”

\textsuperscript{170}Bauchi: “imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years in a location other than his domicile”. Kano and Katsina: “imprisonment which may extend to life imprisonment”.

\textsuperscript{171}Only Kaduna includes, as here, “and other damages to be determined by the court”.

\textsuperscript{172}Kano and Katsina have the following explanation here: “The conditions for proving the offences of zina (fornication or adultery) or rape in respect of a married person are as follows: (a) Islam; (b) maturity; (c) sanity; (d) liberty; (e) valid marriage; (f) consummation of the marriage; (g) four witnesses; or (h) confession. If any of the above conditions has not been proved by the person alleging zina or rape there is no punishment of stoning to death; the person alleging such offence shall be imprisoned for one year and shall also be liable to eading which may extend to one hundred lashes.”

\textsuperscript{173}PC omits the separate offence of sodomy, presumably including it under “Unnatural offences”: “Whoever has carnal intercourse against the order of nature with any man, woman or animal shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to fourteen years and shall also be liable to fine. Explanation: Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute the carnal intercourse necessary to the offence described in this section.”

\textsuperscript{174}Only Kaduna and Yobe have this same language. All other states: “Whoever has carnal intercourse against the order of nature with any man or woman is said to commit the offence of sodomy.” Kano and Katsina qualify this: “with any man or woman through her rectum”. All states except Kaduna also add the following proviso: “Except that whoever is compelled by the use of force or threats [Sokoto: of force or in fear of death or grievous hurt or fear of any other serious injury] or without his consent to commit that act of sodomy [Kano and Kaduna; with another shall not be the subject] [all others: upon the person of another or be the subject] of the act of sodomy nor shall he be deemed to have committed the offence.” Kebbi also adds the following: “PROVE: 1. Sound mind; 2. Self Confession; 3. Four male witnesses in the act of sodomy who shall be trustworthy Muslims.”

CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

130. (1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2), whoever commits the offence of sodomy shall be punished with stoning to death (rajm).

(2) Whoever has anal coitus with his wife shall be punished with caning which may extend to fifty lashes.

Explanation:

Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute anal coitus necessary to the offence of sodomy.

Incest

131. (1) Whoever being a man, has sexual intercourse with a woman who is and whom he knows or has reason to believe to be his daughter, his grand daughter, his mother or any other of his female ascendants or descendants, his sister or the daughter of his sister or brother or his paternal or maternal aunt has committed the offence of incest.

(2) Whoever, being a woman, voluntarily permits a man who is and whom she knows or has reason to believe to be her son, her grandson, her father or any other of her male ascendants or descendants, her brother or the son of her brother or sister or her paternal or maternal uncle to have sexual intercourse with her, has committed the offence of incest.

132. Whoever commits incest shall be punished:

(a) with caning of one hundred lashes if unmarried, and where the offender is a male shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of not less than one year and not exceeding five years; or

(b) if married, with stoning to death.

175 Only Yobe is as here. Kaduna, Katsina and Kebbi: “Whoever commits the offence of sodomy shall be punished with stoning to death (rajm).” Bauchi adds: “or by any other means decided by the state.” Gombe, Jigawa, Kano and Zamfara: “Whoever commits the offence of sodomy shall be punished: (a) with caning of 100 lashes if unmarried and shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term of one year, or (b) if married [Kano: or has previously been married] with stoning to death (rajm).” Sokoto: “shall be punished (a) with stoning to death; (b) if the act is committed by a minor on an adult person the adult person shall be punished by way of ta’azir which may extend to 100 lashes and minor with correctional punishment.”

176 Only Kaduna and Yobe vary the punishment in the case of sodomy with the wife, as here. Kaduna: ta’azir.

177 Gombe and Kaduna omit this explanation.

178 Kano and Katsina omit the offence of incest.

179 PC includes subsections (1) and (2) in one section, which also specifies the punishment. PC also includes an explanation: “In this section words expressing relation include relatives of the half blood and relatives whose relation is not traced through a lawful marriage.”

180 PC omits subsections (a) and (b), punishing all incest “with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years and shall also be liable to fine.”

181 Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, and Zamfara omit the limitation of the punishment of imprisonment to males. All states make the term of imprisonment one year. Kebbi adds: “PROVE: Four trustworthy male witnesses to the act of incest.”
Lesbianism (Sihaq)\textsuperscript{182}

133. Whoever, being a woman, engages another woman in carnal intercourse through her sexual organ or by means of stimulation or sexual excitement of one another has committed the offence of lesbianism.

134 Whoever commits the offence of lesbianism shall be punished with caning which may extend to fifty lashes and in addition be sentenced to a term of imprisonment which may extend to six months.\textsuperscript{183}

\textbf{[Explanation]}\textsuperscript{184}

Bestiality (Wat al-Bahimah)\textsuperscript{185}

135 Whoever, being a man or woman, has carnal intercourse with any animal is said to commit the offence of bestiality.

136 Whoever commits the offence of bestiality shall be punished with caning of fifty lashes and in addition shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of six months.\textsuperscript{186}

\textbf{Explanation:}\textsuperscript{187}

\textit{Mere penetration is sufficient to constitute the carnal intercourse necessary to the offence of bestiality.}

\textbf{Gross Indecency}

137. Whoever commits an act of gross indecency by way of kissing in public, exposure of nakedness in public and other related acts of similar nature capable of corrupting public morals shall be punished with caning which may extend to forty lashes and may be liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year and may also be liable to fine.\textsuperscript{188}

\textsuperscript{182} PC omits the separate offence of lesbianism, presumably including it under “Unnatural offences”: see note to Sodomy (Liwat) above.

\textsuperscript{183} Bauchi: “imprisonment which may extend to up to five years.” Kano and Katsina: stoning to death. Kaduna: ta’zir.

\textsuperscript{184} Bauchi, Jigawa, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara include the following explanation: “The offence is committed by the unnatural fusion of the female sexual organs and/or by the use of natural or artificial means to stimulate or attain sexual satisfaction or excitement.”

\textsuperscript{185} PC omits the separate offence of bestiality, presumably including it under “Unnatural offences”: see note to Sodomy (Liwat) above.

\textsuperscript{186} Bauchi: “shall be punished with caning of 40 lashes and in addition shall be sentenced to a term of imprisonment of fourteen years and animal shall be caused to be killed.” Kano and Katsina: 100 lashes and two years. Kaduna: ta’zir.

\textsuperscript{188} Definition of the offence: Kaduna: omits “by way of kissing”. Kano and Katsina: “in order to corrupt” instead of “capable of corrupting”. Gombe: “any sexual offence against the normal or usual standards of behaviour.” PC, Bauchi, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara do not define gross indecency, saying only: “Whoever commits an act of gross indecency upon the person of another without his consent or by the use of force or threat compels a person to join with him in the commission of such act shall be punished ….” Punishment: PC: up to 7 years and fine. Bauchi: 40 lashes, 7 years and fine. Kaduna: ta’zir. Sokoto varies the provision here only by using ‘or’ instead of ‘and’ and adding ‘or both’. All states except Kaduna add the following proviso: “Provided that a consent given by a person below the age of [PC: 16 years] [Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara: 15 years] [Kano, Katsina: puberty] [Bauchi: maturity] to such an act when done by his...
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

False Accusation of Zina (Qadhf)\[^{189}\]

138. Whoever by words either spoken or reproduced by mechanical or electronic\[^{190}\] means or intended to be read or by signs or by visible representations makes or publishes any false imputation of zina or sodomy concerning a chaste person\[^{191}\] or contests the paternity of such person even where such person is dead, is said to commit the offence of qadhf.

\textit{Provided that} a person is deemed to be chaste who has not been convicted of the offence of zina or sodomy.

139. Whoever commits the offence of qadhf shall be punished with caning of eighty lashes.\[^{192}\]

140. The offence of qadhf shall be remitted in any of the following cases:

141. (1) Whoever by words either spoken or reproduced by mechanical or electronic\[^{194}\] means or intended to be read or by signs or by visible representations makes or publishes any imputation concerning a person, intending to harm or knowing or having reason to believe that such imputation will harm the reputation of such person, is said, save in the cases hereinafter excepted, to defame that person.

(c) to express in good faith any opinion whatever respecting the conduct of any person touching any public question and respecting his character so far as his character appears in that conduct and no further;

\begin{footnotesize}
\footnote{\[^{189}\] PC omits these provision on qadhf.}
\footnote{\[^{190}\] Only Kaduna includes “or electronic”.}
\footnote{\[^{191}\] All SPCs add after ‘chaste person’: \textit{muhsin}; similarly after ‘chaste’ in next sentence.}
\footnote{\[^{192}\] Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara add: “and his testimony shall not be accepted thereafter unless he repents before the court.” “Before the court” however omitted in Sokoto.}
\footnote{\[^{193}\] PC includes identical provisions on defamation, only varying the punishment as noted below. PC also includes many explanations and illustrations omitted here and in all SPCs.}
\footnote{\[^{194}\] Only Kaduna includes “or electronic”.}
\end{footnotesize}
(d) to publish a substantially true report of proceedings of a Court of Justice or of the result of any such proceedings;

(e) to express in good faith any opinion whatever respecting the merits of any case civil or criminal which has been decided by a court of justice or respecting the conduct of any person as a party, witness or agent in any such case or respecting the character of such person as far as his character appears in that conduct and no further;

(j) to convey a caution in good faith to one person against another, provided that such caution be intended for the good of the person to whom it is conveyed or of some person in whom that person is interested or for the public good.

142. Whoever defames another shall be punished with caning which may extend to forty lashes and may be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or fine which may extend to five thousand naira or with both.

Theft (Sariqah)

143. The offence of theft shall be deemed to have been committed by a person who covertly, dishonestly and without consent, takes any lawful and movable property belonging to another, out of its place of custody (hirz) and valued not less than the minimum stipulated value (nisab) without any justification.

144. Whoever commits the offence of theft punishable with hadd shall be punished with amputation of the right hand from the joint of the wrist; and where the offender is convicted for the second theft, shall be punished with the amputation of the left foot from the ankle; and where the offender is convicted for the third theft, shall be punished with the amputation of the left hand from the joint of the wrist; and where the offender is convicted for the fourth theft, shall be punished with the amputation of the right foot from the ankle;

195 PC: 2 years or fine or both. Bauchi, Zamfara: 2 years and 40 lashes. Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe: 1 year and 40 lashes. Kaduna: ta’azir.

196 PC: “(1) Whoever, intending to take dishonestly any movable property out of the possession of any person without that person’s consent, moves that property in order to take it is said to commit theft. (2) Whoever dishonestly abstracts, diverts, consumes or uses any electricity or electric current is said to commit theft.” In PC, five explanations and fourteen illustrations follow.
and where the offender is convicted for the fifth or subsequent thefts, he shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding one year.¹⁹⁷

145. Whoever commits the offence of theft that does not meet with the requirement of hizār or nisab as provided under section 144 is said to commit the offence of theft not punishable with hadd.¹⁹⁸

146. The penalty of hadd for theft shall be remitted in any of the following cases:

(a) where the offence was committed by ascendant against descendant;

(b) where the offence was committed between spouses within their matrimonial home; provided the stolen property was not under the victim’s lock and key;

(c) Where the offence was committed under circumstances of necessity and the offender did not take more than he ordinarily requires to satisfy his need or the need of his dependents;

(d) where the offender believes in good faith that he has a share (or a right or interest) in the said stolen property and the said stolen property does not exceed the share (or the right or interest) to the equivalent of the minimum value of the property (nisab);

(e) where the offender retracts his confession before execution of the penalty in cases where proof of guilt was based only on the confession of the offender;

(f) where the offender returns or restitutes the stolen property to the victim of the offence and repents before he was brought to trial, he being a first time offender;

(g) where the offender was permitted access to the place of custody (hizār) of the stolen property;

(h) where the victim of the offence is indebted to the offender and is unwilling to pay, and the debt was due to be discharged prior to the offence, and the value of the property stolen is equal to, or does not exceed the debt due to the offender to the extent of the nisab;

(i) Where the confession made by the offender was obtained involuntarily in cases where proof of guilt was based only on the confession of the offender.¹⁹⁹

¹⁹⁷ PC does not include anything similar to what are here §§144-146. SPCs: only Kaduna includes the words “from the ankle” in this section. For fifth offence: Bauchi: life; Kaduna: ta’azir. Kebbi: “PROVE: 1. Moveable property. 2. Property must be moved. 3. No right of entry. 4. Mukallaf (sound mind). 5. Self confession. 6. Property must not be in open place.”

¹⁹⁸ Kaduna adds: “Provided that a person may not be subject to hadd punishment who commits theft in times of war, famine, or other natural” [sic]. Katsina omits this section entirely. Kano, instead of this section, has here: “Whoever is a public servant or a staff of a private sector including bank or company connives with somebody or some other people or himself and stole public funds or property under his care or somebody under his jurisdiction he shall be punished with amputation of his right hand wrist and sentence of imprisonment of not less than five years and stolen wealth shall be confiscated. If the money or properties stolen are mixed with another different wealth it will all be confiscated until all monies and other properties belonging to the public are recovered. If the confiscated amount and stolen properties are not up to the amount the whole wealth shall be confiscated and he will be left with some amount to sustain himself.” This provision of Kano’s substitutes for the section on “criminal breach of trust by public servant or by banker, merchant or agent”, §167 here, which Kano omits.

147. Whoever commits the offence of theft under section 145 or where the punishment of theft was remitted under section 146 shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.

148. Whoever drinks alcohol or any other intoxicant knowingly and voluntarily, shall be punished with caning of eighty lashes.

149. Whoever prepares alcohol by either manufacturing, presssing, extracting or tapping whether for himself or for another; or transports, carries or loads alcohol whether for himself or for another; or trades in alcohol by buying or selling or supplying premises by either leasing or storing or leasing out premises for the storing or preserving or consumption or otherwise dealing or handling in any way alcoholic drinks or any other intoxicant shall be punished with caning which may extend to forty lashes or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with both.

150. Whoever is found drunk or drinking in a public or private place; and conducts himself in a disorderly manner, to the annoyance of any person or incapable of taking care of himself, shall in addition to the punishment specified in section 148 above, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with a fine which may extend to two thousand naira or with both.

151. Whoever acting alone or in conjunction with others in order to seize property or to commit an offence, or for any other reasons voluntarily causes or attempts to cause to any person death or hurt or wrongful restraint or fear of instant death or of instant hurt, or of instant wrongful restraint in circumstances that render such person helpless or incapable of defending himself, is said to commit the offence of hirabah.\textsuperscript{204}

152. Whoever commits hirabah shall be punished: \textsuperscript{205}

- (a) with imprisonment for life where the offence was committed without seizure of property or causing death; \textsuperscript{206}
- (b) with amputation of the right hand from the wrist and the left foot from the ankle where property was seized, but death was not caused;
- (c) with death sentence where death was caused, but property was not seized; \textsuperscript{207}
- (d) with salb, where murder was committed and property was seized. \textsuperscript{208}

153. Whoever makes any preparation for committing the offence of hirabah, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes. \textsuperscript{209}

154. Whoever belongs to a gang of persons associated for the purpose of committing hirabah, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes. \textsuperscript{210}

\textit{Extortion}

155. Whoever intentionally puts any person in fear of any injury to that person or to any other and thereby dishonestly induces the person so put in fear to deliver to any person any \textsuperscript{204} Kaduna: “… or to commit theft, armed with any dangerous weapon or instrument…”, and other minor variations. Bauchi: “Hirabah (Brigandage and Armed Robbery) occurs when a person acting singly or in concert with others, commits theft through violence or profits by the fact that his victim(s) are far from help and openly seizes them or their goods, through: (a) the use of narcotics; (b) enticement and ambush; c) the use of naked violence including murder in any area.” PC defines robbery as theft done by causing or attempting to cause death or hurt etc. or extortion done by putting in fear of same; there are 4 illustrations. Brigandage is defined as robbery or attempted robbery by 5 or more persons.

\textsuperscript{205} PC, like the SPCs, varies the punishments for robbery and brigandage depending on the circumstances, but the parameters and the punishments are different than here. Simple robbery: up to 10 years and fine. If at night on the highway or a person sleeping outside: up to 14 years and fine. If by a person armed with a dangerous weapon: up to life and fine. If hurt caused: up to 14 years and fine. If culpable homicide committed during brigandage: all brigands: death. Etc.

\textsuperscript{206} Gombe: up to 14 years. Sokoto: up to 5 years.

\textsuperscript{224} Kano and Katsina omit this section entirely, but Kano includes a substitute among its provisions on theft, see note to §145 above. Punishments: PC: 14 years and fine. Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Yobe, Zamfara: 15 years/fine. Kebbi: 5 years/fine. Sokoto: 7 years and fine, adding: “Nothing shall preclude the court from imposing or making an order for the payment of restitution.” Kaduna: \textit{ta’azir}.

\textsuperscript{225} PC has “robbery” where \textit{hirabah} is here and in all SPCs. Brigandage being included within \textit{hirabah}, a separate section of PC prescribing punishment for receiving property stolen in the commission of brigandage is then omitted here and in all SPCs except Bauchi. As to Bauchi, see note to next section.

\textsuperscript{226} PC: 14 years or fine or both. Bauchi: 14 years and 40 lashes. Bauchi adds subsection (b) as follows: “Whoever dishonestly receives or retains any stolen property, the possession whereof he knows or has reason to believe to have been transferred by the commission of brigandage, or dishonestly receives, from a person whom he knows or has reason to believe to belong or have belonged to a gang of brigands, property, which he knows or has reason to believe to have been stolen, shall be punished with imprisonment for life or any less term and shall also be liable to fine.” This subsection (b) corresponds to PC §318, omitted here and in all other SPCs. \textsuperscript{227} PC: 5 years or fine or both. Gombe: 7 years/30 lashes. Jigawa: 5 years/50 lashes. Kaduna: \textit{ta’azir}.

229 PC and Sokoto have this explanation: “A dishonest concealment of facts is a deception within the meaning of this section.” PC has nine illustrations, of which Sokoto has only the first: “A, by falsely pretending to be in the government service, intentionally deceives Z and thus dishonestly induces Z to let him have on credit goods for which he does not mean to pay. A cheats.”

230 PC and Sokoto have this explanation: “The offence is committed whether the individual personated is a real or imaginary person.” PC also has two other illustrations.

231 PC: 3 years or fine or both. Bauch: maximum term: 5 years; otherwise as here. Kano and Katsina specify the maximum fine at ₦20,000. Kaduna: ta’uqir.

180. (1) Whoever commits house trespass, having taken precaution to conceal such house trespass from some person who has a right to exclude or eject the trespasser from the building, tent, vessel, railway carriage, motor vehicle or aircraft which is the subject of the trespass, is said to commit lurking house trespass.\textsuperscript{238}

182. A person is said to commit house breaking, who commits house trespass, if he effects his entrance into the house or any part of it in any of the six ways hereinafter described; or if being in the house or any part of it for the purpose of committing an offence or having committed an offence therein, he quits the house or any part of it in any of such six ways, that is to say:

(a) if he enters or quits through a passage made by himself or by any abettor of the house trespass in order to commit the house trespass;

(f) if he enters or quits by any passage which he knows to have been fastened against such entrance or departure and to have been unfastened by himself or by an abettor of the house trespass.\textsuperscript{241}

\textsuperscript{236} PC omits "motor vehicle or aircraft". PC and Sokoto have this explanation: "The introduction of any part of the criminal trespasser’s body is sufficient to constitute house trespass."

\textsuperscript{237} PC and Kebbi omit subsection (2).

\textsuperscript{238} PC omits "motor vehicle or aircraft".

\textsuperscript{239} PC and Kebbi omit subsection (2).

\textsuperscript{240} Kano and Katsina omit this section.

\(^{246}\) Sokoto is the only SPC using “punishable with seven years imprisonment” here: PC and all other SPCs except Kaduna have “fourteen years”. Kaduna, in its marginal section title, calls this section “House trespass to commit offence punishable with seven years imprisonment.” But the section itself reads: “Whoever commits house trespass in order to commit any offence shall be liable to tu’azir punishment”; and then Kaduna omits the next section.

196. PC limits this offence to “lurking house trespass by night or house breaking by night”. Bauchi omits “or attempts to cause” in the definition of the offence.

Bauchi omits the word “grievous”.

This is the only punishment prescribed in PC. Gombe: 14 years/fine. Kano and Katsina: 5 years/fine. Kaduna: ta‘zir.

PC: 2 years or fine or both. Bauchi: 2 years/40 lashes. Kebbi: 1 year or fine and 20 lashes. Kaduna: ta‘zir.

CHAPTER IX – QISAS AND QISAS-RELATED OFFENCES

Homicide

198. Except in the circumstances mentioned in section 203, whoever being a mukallaf causes the death of a human being by an act:

(a) with the intention of causing death or such bodily injury as is probable or likely to cause death; or

(b) in a state of fight, combat, strife or aggression, which is not intrinsically likely or probable to cause death; or

PC puts most of the offences included in this chapter, in a chapter entitled OFFENCES AFFECTING THE HUMAN BODY. Two groups of PC offences affecting the human body are however not included under QISAS AND QISAS-RELATED OFFENCES here or in the SPCs: Wrongful Restraint and Confine morement, put in the SPCs under TA’AZIR OFFENCES, and Rape and Unnatural and Indecent Offences Against the Person, put in the SPCs under HUDUD AND HUDUD-RELATED OFFENCES. Kano and Katsina entitle this chapter RETALIATORY OFFENCES. Gombe groups qisas offences with hudud.

This and all SPCs divide homicide into intentional, punishable with death (unless remitted by the relatives of the deceased, or unless falling under one of the statutory exceptions, see §203), and unintentional, punishable only with payment of diyah, see §§198-201. PC proceeds differently, first defining “culpable homicide”, then dividing it into “punishable with death” and “not punishable with death”. Culpable homicide: “Whoever causes death: (a) by doing an act with the intention of causing death or such bodily injury as is likely to cause death; or (b) by doing an act with the knowledge that he is likely by such act to cause death; or (c) by doing a rash or negligent act, commits the offence of culpable homicide.” Punishable with death: “Except in the circumstances mentioned in section 222 culpable homicide shall be punished with death: (a) if the act by which the death is caused is done with the intention of causing death; or (b) if the doer of the act knew or had reason to know that death would be the probable and not only a likely consequence of the act or of any bodily injury which the act was intended to cause.” Not punishable with death: see note to §203. Note: PC also includes separate sections on “causing death of person other than person whose death was intended”, “death caused when intention is to cause hurt only”, and “death caused in act of committing offence” (felony murder), all omitted here and in all SPCs. Kano and Katsina omit explicit reference here to the excepted circumstances, but list them in subsequent sections.

Gombe, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara add here: “in a state of anger”.

Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara omit “by an act”.

Kano and Katsina omit “probable or”.

All SPCs except Kano and Katsina insert here: “with an object either sharp or heavy”.

All SPCs except Bauchi, Kano and Katsina include a subsection (b) on causes “not intrinsically likely or probable to cause death”, but they disagree in the specification of such causes. Kaduna: “in a state of anger, with a light stick, a whip or any other thing of that nature which is not intrinsically likely or probable to cause death.” Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe and Zamfara: same, but omitting “in a state of anger”.

84
(c) if the doer of the act knew or had reason to know that death would be the probable and not only a likely consequence of the act or of bodily injury which the act was intended to cause, commits the offence of intentional homicide (qatl al-amd).

199. Whoever commits the offence of intentional homicide shall be punished:

(a) with death; or

(b) where the relatives of the victim remit the punishment in (a) above, with the payment of diyah; or

(c) where the relatives of the victim remit the punishment in (a) and (b) above, with caning of one hundred lashes and with imprisonment for a term of one year.

Provided that in cases of intentional homicide by way of gheelah or hirabah, the punishment shall be with death only.

200. Whoever being a mukallaf causes the death of any other person by mistake or accident, or by doing a rash or negligent act is said to commit unintentional homicide.

201. Whoever commits the offence of unintentional homicide shall be punished -

(a) Where the death was caused by mistake or accident, with payment of diyah; or

(b) where it was not proved that the suspect was the one who caused the death of the deceased, or it was proved that the death of the deceased was caused by the suspect

269 Kaduna: “probable or likely consequence”. Kano (as subsection (b)): “by doing an act with knowledge that he is likely by such act to cause death.” Then in Kano subsection (c) and Katsina subsection (b): “by doing a rash and negligent act”.

270 Kano and Katsina: “where the relatives of the victim remit the punishment in paragraph (a) and (b) above, the convict shall, in addition to the payment of diyah be imprisoned for a period not exceeding 10 years.” Kaduna omits subsection (c) entirely.

271 Gombe: “by way of assassination (qalt al-gheelah) or robbery (hirabah)”. Kaduna omits the proviso entirely.

272 Only Kaduna includes “or by doing a rash or negligent act”. Bauchi: “by mistake such as with a light stick or whip or any other thing of that nature which is not intrinsically likely or probable to cause death commits the offence of unintentional homicide (qatl al-khata)”.

273 Only Kaduna divides the punishments into subsections (a) and (b); all the rest say simply “punished with the payment of diyah”; cf. note to previous section. Kaduna subsection (b): “with payment of diyah and liable to ta’izir punishment.”

274 Bauchi inserts here: “with the intention of retaliation before taking the matter to court.”.

but with legal justification the waliyy al-damm shall be deemed to have committed intentional homicide punishable under section 199.\footnote{276}

203. Except in the circumstances mentioned in section 199 intentional homicide is punishable with the payment of diyah and a term of imprisonment which may extend to one year and not with death in any of the following circumstances\footnote{277}:

(a) where the offender is an ascendant or teacher of the victim and the intention of the ascendant or teacher is clearly shown to be the correction or discipline of the victim;\footnote{278} or

(b) where the offender, being a public servant acting for the advancement of public justice or being a person aiding a public servant so acting exceeds the powers given to him by law and necessary for the due discharge of his duty as such public servant or for assisting such public servant in the due discharge of such duty and without ill will towards the person whose death is caused;\footnote{279} or

(c) where the offender, in the exercise in good faith of the right of private defence of person or property, exceeds the power given to him by law and causes the death of the person against whom he is exercising such right of defence without premeditation and without any intention of doing more harm than is necessary for the purpose of such defence.\footnote{280}

204. Whoever does any act not resulting in death with such intention or knowledge and in such circumstances that if he by that act caused death, he would be guilty of intentional homicide, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year and shall also be liable to caning of one hundred lashes.\footnote{281}

\footnote{276} Kaduna does not split the punishments into subsections (a) and (b); what is here subsection (b) is put as a proviso to the foregoing. PC: no similar provision on waliyy al-damm.
\footnote{277} Bauchi, Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara: “punishable with diyah and not with death”. Kano and Katsina complicate this section by dividing it into two subsections: “(1) Except in the circumstances mentioned in section 142, intentional homicide is punishable with the payment of diyah and a term of imprisonment which may extend to ten years where the offender is the father of the victim. (2) Except in the circumstances mentioned in section 142, intentional homicide is punishable with diyah and a term which may extend for life imprisonment: [then giving what are here subsections (b) and (c)].” This section is parallel to PC §222, listing seven cases in which “culpable homicide is not punishable with death”. Two of the PC cases are included here, see notes to subsections (b) and (c). The other five: offender deprived of the power of self control by grave and sudden provocation; committed without premeditation in a sudden fight in the heat of passion; the decedent assumed the risk of death; woman kills her child under one year the balance of her mind being disturbed by not having recovered from giving birth; the death was caused by a rash or negligent act.
\footnote{278} No SPC includes “or teacher”. Kano and Katsina omit this subsection altogether. There is also nothing like it in PC.
\footnote{279} = PC §222(3), part of the definition of “culpable homicide not punishable with death”, except that after “exceeds the power given to him by law” PC inserts: “and causes death by doing an act which he in good faith believes to be lawful and”.
\footnote{280} = PC §222(2), part of the definition of “culpable homicide not punishable with death”.
\footnote{281} Bauchi: 1 year/40 lashes. Kebbi: 5 years/100 lashes. Kaduna: taʻazir. PC has separate sections on attempts to commit culpable homicide punishable with death and not punishable with death, punishing the former with imprisonment for up to life or fine or both, and the latter with up to 3 years or fine or both unless hurt is caused in which case up to 7 years or fine or both.
205. Whoever abets:

(a) any person under fifteen years of age, or any insane person, or any delirious person or any idiot or any person in a state of intoxication, to commit suicide or to kill himself; or

(b) any person to commit intentional homicide or unintentional homicide, shall be punished under section 199 of this law if:

(i) the abettor knew of the probable or likely consequence or result or effect of the act of the persons mentioned in (a) or (b) above; and

(ii) the execution/carrying out of the act by the persons mentioned in (a) or (b) above would not have been possible without the abetment of the abettor.

206. Whoever voluntarily causes a woman with child to miscarry, shall, if such miscarriage be not caused in good faith for the purpose of saving the life of the woman, be punished with the payment of ghurrah, and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to ten lashes.

Explanation:

A woman, who causes herself to miscarry, is within the meaning of this section.

207. Whoever uses force to any woman and thereby unintentionally causes her to miscarry, shall be punished with the payment of ghurrah.

208. Whoever with intent to cause miscarriage of a woman whether with child or not does any act which causes the death of such woman, shall be punished:

(a) with the payment of diyah; or

(b) if the act is done without the consent of the woman, with qisas.

209. Whoever before the birth of any child does any act with the intention of thereby preventing that child from being born alive and does by such act prevent that child from being born alive, shall, if such act be not caused in good faith for the purpose of saving the life of the mother, be punished with:

(a) Payment of ghurrah; and

(b) the execution/carrying out of the act by the persons mentioned in (a) or (b) above would not have been possible without the abetment of the abettor.

Causing miscarriage, Injuries to unborn children, Exposure of infants, Cruelty to children and Concealment of births

283 Gombe omits “/carrying out”. Kebbi omits subsection (ii) altogether. PC: no separate section on abetment of homicide.

284 PC: 14 years or fine or both. Sokoto has “ghurrah (one twentieth of diyah)”. Kano and Katsina:
“(ghurrah) compensation”. Kaduna punishment: ghurrah/ta’zir.

285 PC: up to 3 years or fine or both, but if the offender knew the woman was with child, up to 5 years or fine or both. Kano, Katsina: “(ghurrah) compensation”.

286 Kano: “with intent to cause miscarriage of a pregnant woman”.

287 PC: up to 14 years and fine.

288 PC: up to life and fine. Jigawa: “(a) with the payment of qisas, or (b) if without intention with payment of diyah”. PC also has an explanation after this section omitted in all SPCs.
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

(b) Caning which may extend to fifty lashes.

(2) Whoever before the birth of any child does any act with the intention of thereby preventing that child from being born alive or causing it to die after its birth and does by such act cause it to die after its birth, shall, if such act be not caused in good faith for the purpose of saving the life of the mother, be punished with qisas.\(^{289}\)

210. Whoever does any act in such circumstances that, if he thereby caused death he would be guilty of intentional homicide,\(^ {290}\) and does by such act cause the death of a quick unborn child, shall be punished with the payment of ghurrah, in addition to the punishment for the offence of attempt to cause the death of the woman.\(^ {291}\)

211. Whoever being the father or mother or having the care of a child under the age of fifteen years exposes or leaves such child in any place with the intention of wholly or partly abandoning such child, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall be liable to caning which may extend to forty lashes.\(^ {292}\)

212. Whoever having the charge or care of a child under the age of fifteen years or being in a position of authority over him wilfully ill-treats or neglects him in such a way as to cause him unnecessary suffering, or denies him access to education shall be punished:\(^ {293}\)

(a) with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine or with both;\(^{294}\) and

(b) if the ill-treatment or neglect results in serious injury to the health of such child, the offender shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years and payment of diyah.\(^ {295}\)

213. Whoever, by secretly burying or otherwise disposing of the dead body of a child whether such a child dies before or after or during its birth, intentionally conceals or endeavours to conceal the birth of such child, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to thirty lashes.\(^ {296}\)

\(^{289}\) Only Kaduna, as here, divides this section into two subsections, in effect distinguishing between the case where the child is born dead and the case where it is born alive, and varying the punishments accordingly. Kaduna’s only variation from what is here: punishment under subsection (1): ghurrah /ta’azir. PC: and all other SPCs: whether the intention was to prevent a live birth or to cause the baby to die after being born alive, and whether the baby is born dead or alive, the punishment is: PC: up to 14 years or fine or both; SPCs: “(a) with qisas; and (b) if without intention with payment of diyah.”

\(^{290}\) PC: “culpable homicide”.

\(^{291}\) PC: up to life and fine. Kano: up to 1 year and payment of ghurrah and up to one hundred lashes. Katsina: like Kano, except omits caning. PC also includes an illustration omitted in all SPCs. Only Kaduna includes “or denies him access to education”.

\(^{292}\) PC: “under the age of twelve years”; Bauchi: “maturity”; Kano, Katsina: “puberty”. PC: 7 years or fine or both. Bauchi: 1 year/40 lashes. Sokoto: 1 year. Kaduna: ta’azir. PC also has an explanation.

\(^{293}\) Bauchi: “under the age of maturity”. Kano, Katsina: “puberty”. Only Kaduna includes “or denies him access to education”.

\(^{294}\) PC: 2 years/fine/both. Bauchi: 3 years/fine/both. Kano, Katsina: 1 year/fine of ₦10,000/both. Kaduna: ta’azir.

\(^{295}\) PC and Kebbi: 5 years/fine/both. Bauchi, Gombe, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara: 5 years. Jigawa: 3 years/30 lashes. Kano, Katsina: 5 years/₦5,000 fine/both. Kaduna: diyah.

214. Whoever causes bodily pain, disease or infirmity to any person is said to cause hurt. 297

215. The following kinds of hurt only are designated as grievous: 298

(a) emasculation;
(b) permanent deprivation of the sight of an eye, of the hearing of an ear, of the power of speech, taste, smell or sound mind; 299
(c) deprivation of any member or joint;
(d) destruction or permanent impairing of the powers of any member or joint;
(e) permanent disfiguration of the head or face;
(f) fracture or dislocation of a bone or tooth;
(g) any hurt which endangers life or which causes the sufferer to be 300 in severe bodily pain or unable to follow his ordinary pursuits.

216. Whoever does any act with the intention of thereby causing hurt to any person or with the knowledge that he is likely thereby to cause hurt to any person and does thereby cause hurt to any person, is said voluntarily to cause hurt. 301

217. Whoever voluntarily causes hurt, if the hurt which he intends to cause or knows himself to be likely to cause is grievous hurt and if the hurt which he causes is grievous hurt, is said voluntarily to cause grievous hurt. 302

218. Whoever voluntarily causes hurt to any person shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with caning which may extend to twenty lashes and shall also be liable to pay compensation. 303

219. Whoever voluntarily causes grievous hurt to any person shall be punished:

(a) with qisas; or

297 Bauchi goes on to say: “and this shall include: [subsections (a) through (g) of what is here §215].” Bauchi thus does not distinguish between hurt and grievous hurt; see also note to §218.

298 Bauchi: see note to previous section.

299 PC omits “, taste, small or sound mind”.

300 PC inserts here: “during the space of twenty days”.

301 Bauchi omits “voluntarily”.

302 Bauchi omits this section. PC includes one explanation and one illustration.

303 Bauchi omits this section, punishing all hurts under what is here the next section on grievous hurt. Kaduna: ta’azir. All others as here except Kano and Katsina use “dijab” instead of “compensation”, and the others use “damages”. PC varies the punishments for voluntarily causing hurt depending on whether it is done “on grave and sudden provocation” (1 month/fine of £10/both) or without provocation (1 year/ fine of £20/both); and then a series of PC sections punishes causing either hurt or grievous hurt: by dangerous means (3 years/fine/both for hurt, 14 years and fine for grievous hurt); “by means of poison or any stupefying, intoxicating or unwholesome drug” (10 years and fine simply for administration with intent); for the purpose of extorting property to constrain an illegal act (10 years and fine for hurt, 14 years and fine for grievous hurt); to extort confession or to compel restoration of property (7 years and fine for hurt, 10 years and fine for grievous hurt); to deter public servant from his duty (3 years/fine/both for hurt, 10 years and fine for grievous hurt); by act endangering life or personal safety of others (1 year/fine/both for hurt, 2 years/fine/both for grievous hurt).
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

(b) where the qisas is remitted or not applicable,\textsuperscript{304} with the payment of diyab as provided under Schedule B of this law and shall also be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months; or with caning which may extend to twenty lashes or with both.\textsuperscript{305}

220. Whoever unintentionally causes grievous hurt to any person shall be punished with the payment of diyab under schedule B of this law.\textsuperscript{306}

Criminal Force and Assault

221. A person is said to use force to another if he causes motion, change of motion or cessation of motion to that other or if he causes any substance to come into contact with any part of that other’s body or with anything which that other is wearing or carrying or with anything so situated that such contact affects that other’s sense of feeling where the person causing any effect above mentioned, causes it:

(a) by his own body power; or
(b) by disposing any substance in such a manner that the effect takes place without any further voluntary act on his part or on the part of any other person; or
(c) by means of any animal.\textsuperscript{307}

222. Whoever intentionally uses force to any person without that person’s consent:

(a) while preparing to commit any offence; or

Whoever makes any gesture or any preparation intending or knowing it to be likely that such gesture or preparation will cause any person present to apprehend that he who makes that gesture or preparation is about to use criminal force to that person, is said to commit an assault.\textsuperscript{308}

\textsuperscript{304} Only Kaduna has “remitted or”. All SPCs except Kebbi add here: “or the act was done by mistake”. But Kebbi adds a subsection (c) after this subsection which says: “(c) where the act was done by mistake with the payment of diyab”; and see §220.

\textsuperscript{305} Bauchi omits any punishment additional to diyab. Kano, Katsina: 6 months and 20 lashes. Kaduna: diyab and ta’ezir. PC again varies the punishments for voluntarily causing grievous hurt depending on whether it is done “on grave and sudden provocation” (4 years/fine of £50/both) or without provocation (7 years and fine); and see note to §218.

\textsuperscript{306} No SPC has this section, but see note to §219 on mistake. PC: “(1) Whoever causes hurt to any person by doing any act so rashly or negligently as to endanger human life or the personal safety of others, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine or with both. (2) Whoever in like manner causes grievous hurt to any person, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years or with fine or with both.”

\textsuperscript{307} PC includes eight illustrations, omitted here and in all SPCs.

\textsuperscript{308} PC and Sokoto include the following explanation and illustrations: “Explanation. (b) A beings to untie the lead of a ferocious dog intending or knowing it to be likely that he may thereby cause Z to believe that he is about to cause the dog to attack Z. A has committed an assault upon Z.” PC adds one further illustration.

309 Gombe, Jigawa, Kaduna, Kano, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Zamfara: omit the phrase “otherwise than on grave and sudden provocation given by that person”.

310 PC and all SPCs vary the punishment depending on whether hurt is caused. (a): no hurt: PC, Bauchi: 1 year/fine/both. Gombe, Jigawa, Kano, Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara: 1 month/fine/both. Kaduna: ta’azir. (b) if grievous hurt (or, in Bauchi, hurt) is caused: PC, Bauchi: 3 years/fine/both. All other SPCs except Kaduna: qisas. Kaduna: as under §219 above, see notes thereto. Kebbi adds a subsection (c): “If qisas is not applicable, with the payment of diyyah.” Note: PC adds a section following this one on “punishment for assault or criminal force with provocation” (3 months/fine up to £20/both), omitted here and in all SPCs.

311 PC inserts a section here as follows: “Whoever assaults or uses criminal force to any person on grave and sudden provocation given by that person, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to twenty pounds or with both.”

412 Bauchi, probably in error, puts this section as a subsection of what is here §302. As to punishment: PC: up to 2 years or fine or both. Bauchi: not less than 5 years and exactly 40 lashes. Gombe: up to 1 year and up to 50 lashes. Jigawa: up to 3 years and exactly 50 lashes. Kano, Katsina: not less than 1 year and up to 50 lashes. Explanation:

A material particular within the meaning of this section means a particular which is material to any question then in issue or intended to be raised in that proceeding.

335. (1) Whoever in any declaration made or subscribed by him, which declaration any court of justice or any public servant or other person is bound or authorised by law to receive as evidence of any fact, makes any statement which is false and which he neither knows nor believes to be false or does not believe to be true, touching any point material to the object for which the declaration is made or used, shall be punished in the same manner as if he gave false evidence.

(2) Whoever uses or attempts to use as true any such declaration knowing the same to be false in any material point, shall be punished in the same manner as if he gave false evidence.

Explanation:
A declaration, which is inadmissible merely upon the ground of some informality, is a declaration within the meaning of this section.

336. Whoever knowingly makes a false translation of the evidence of a witness or of the statement of an accused person or of a party to a civil suit or makes a false translation or copy of any document with the intention that such translation or copy shall be used in any manner in any judicial proceeding or knowing that it is likely to be so used, and whoever knowingly uses such translation or copy in any manner in any judicial proceeding, shall be punished in the same manner as if he gave false evidence.

(b) in addition where the offender causes evidence to disappear the offender shall be caused to remit the evidence so caused to disappear or be punished with an additional term of imprisonment which may extend to one year.

Screening of Offenders

PC: “which is false and which he either knows or believes to be false or does not believe to be true”. But all SPCs except Katsina, Kebbi, Sokoto, and Yobe are as here. Katsina: “which is false or does not believe to be true”. Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe: “which is false and which he neither knows or believes to be false or does not believe to be true”.

PC: 2 years or fine or both. Bauchi: 7 years/40 lashes. Kebbi: up to 5 years or fine or both and up to 50 lashes. Kaduna: ta’azir. Katsina’s code probably intends 5 years/50 lashes but the words “shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes” are missing.

PC: 5 years/fine. Kano: 2 years/20 lashes. Kebbi: up to 5 years or fine or both and up to 40 lashes. Kaduna with ta’azir.
339. Whoever accepts or attempts to obtain or agrees to accept any gratification for himself or any other person or any restitution of property to himself or any other person, in consideration of his concealing an offence or of his screening any person from legal punishment for any offence or of his not proceeding against any person for the purpose of bringing him to legal punishment, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.

340. Whoever gives or causes or offers or agrees to give or cause any gratification to any other person or to restore or cause the restoration of any property to any other person, in consideration of that other person's concealing an offence or of his screening any person from legal punishment for any offence or of his not proceeding against any person for the purpose of bringing him to legal punishment, shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years and shall also be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.

Explanation:

In sections 338 to 340 the word "offence" includes any act done outside the State which if done in the State would be an offence and the punishment for the offence shall be deemed to be the same as the punishment would be if the act were done in the State.

 Punishment for intermediary on gratification

341. Whoever, knowing or having reason to believe that any person or persons are about to commit or have recently committed the offence of hirabah, harbours them or any of them with the intention of facilitating the commission of such offence of hirabah or of screening them or any of them from punishment, shall be punished with the punishment provided for the offence of hirabah.

471. PC and Kaduna both omit this second subsection. Bauchi increases the punishment to 3 years. PC and all SPCs add the following explanation: “In this section the word ‘offence’ includes any act done outside [the state] which if done in [the state] would be an offence and the punishment for the offence shall be deemed to be the same as the punishment would be if the act were done in [the state].” PC and Sokoto also add the following illustration: “A, knowing that B has murdered [Sokoto: killed] Z, assists B to hide the body with the intention of screening B from punishment. A is liable to imprisonment for five years and also to fine [Sokoto: caning].”

472. PC: 5 years/fine. Bauchi: 5 years/40 lashes. Jigawa, Kano: 3 years/30 lashes. Gombe, Katsina, Yobe, Zamfara: 7 years/50 lashes. Kebbi: up to 7 years or fine or both and up to 50 lashes. Kaduna: ta’zir. PC adds a subsection (2): “This section shall not extend to any case in which the offence may be lawfully compounded”. PC and all SPCs also add the same explanation as the one to §338(b) above.

473. PC: 7 years/fine. Bauchi: 5 years/40 lashes. Gombe, Jigawa, Katsina, Yobe, Zamfara: 7 years/50 lashes. Kano: 7 years/20 lashes. Kebbi: up to 7 years or fine or both and up to 50 lashes. Kaduna: ta’zir. PC adds a subsection (2): “This section shall not extend to any case in which the offence may be lawfully compounded”.

474. As noted, this explanation is distributed to the various individual sections in PC and all SPCs.

475. Kano and Katsina add a section here as follows: “The agent who facilitates offering gratification between the receiver and the giver shall be imprisoned for [Kano: 2 years; Katsina: 7 years] and shall also be liable to caning which shall extend to fifty lashes.”

476. PC has “robbery or brigandage” in place of “the offence of hirabah” in this section.

477. PC: up to 7 years and fine. Bauchi: up to 7 years and up to 40 lashes. Gombe, Jigawa, Kebbi, Sokoto, Yobe, Zamfara: up to 7 years and up to 50 lashes. Kano, Katsina: up to 15 years and up to 70 lashes. Kaduna: as here, except refers to section on punishment for hirabah.

484 Gombe, Kano, Katsina omit this explanation.

485 Kano: 2 years/₦50,000 fine/both and forfeiture of property acquired fraudulently. Katsina: as Kano, but omits forfeiture provision. Kaduna: ta’azir. (3) An "incorrigible vagabond" shall mean any person who after being convicted as a vagabond commits any of the offences which will render him liable to be convicted as such again.

Explanation:

_A nomad cannot be convicted under this chapter because he has no settled home if he has an apparent means of subsistence or gives a satisfactory account of himself._

577 Kano, Katsina: “after having been convicted in subparagraphs (1) and (2) as a vagabond”.

578 Only PC, Kano and Katsina have this explanation. PC places it after subsection (1) of this section, rather than after subsection (2).

580 PC: 1 year or fine or both. Kano: 8 months/35 lashes. Kaduna: ta’azir.
CHAPTER 4: THE SHARIA PENAL CODES

379. Whoever is convicted as being an incorrigible vagabond shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years and shall be liable to caning which may extend to fifty lashes.581

 [Prohibition of praise singing, drumming, begging, playing cards, etc.]582

Illustration:585

A man who has been convicted of theft is found by night crouching in the shadow of a locked shop and seeing a policeman at once runs away. He is arrested in possession of a large bundle of keys. It need not be shown that he was trying the keys or attempting to enter the shop.

Mischief

381. Whoever, with intent to cause or knowing that he is likely to cause wrongful loss or damage to the public or to any person causes the destruction of any property or any such change in any property or in the situation thereof as destroys or diminishes its value or utility or affects it injuriously, commits mischief.

583 All SPCs have “or he may be convicted” instead of “and”.

584 Kano and Katsina omit this section entirely.

585 No SPC has this illustration.

586 PC, Kano, Katsina, Sokoto have two explanations following this section, as follows: (1) “It is not essential to the offence of mischief that the offender should intend to cause loss or damage to the owner of the property injured or destroyed. It is sufficient if he intends to cause or knows that he is likely to cause wrongful loss or damage to any person by injuring any property whether it belongs to that person or not.” (2) “Mischief may be committed by an act affecting property belonging to the person who commits the act or to that person and other jointly.” PC adds 5 illustrations, of which Sokoto has two: “(a) A voluntarily burns a document of title belonging to Z intending to cause wrongful loss to Z. A has committed mischief. (b) A causes cattle to enter upon a field belonging to Z intending to cause or knowing that he is likely to cause damage to Z’s crop. A has committed mischief.”

\(^{662}\) Kano, Katsina: “the penis.”

\(^{663}\) All SPCs except Jigawa omit the heading to this Part. Jigawa has: “Cases that warrant the full diyal compensation up to three times for one injury”.

\(^{664}\) Jigawa includes this heading for Part E, but then puts the content of what is here Part F under the heading. The content of what is here Part E is omitted. The heading for Part F is then also omitted.

\(^{665}\) Jigawa omits the heading for Part F, putting the content of Part F under the heading for Part E, see previous note.

\(^{667}\) Jigawa omits “2. the tooth”.
